

Branch library placed on hold

By Bill Milligan
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — City aldermen balked at a proposed $603,268 library budget, up 3.3 percent for 1986-87, Tuesday night.

Faced with more than $10 million in sewer repairs, aldermen seem divided over the need for construction of a branch library.

Aldermen met with representatives of the Library Board to clear up questions about a proposed 34-cent tax rate and plans for the new branch at 2145 Johnson Road.

"HOW CAN WE justify building a branch library when we're faced with $10 million in sewer repairs?" asked Alderman Paul Fisk. "I think the 15-cent rate should be adhered to."

Questions regarding library financing surfaced in a June 9 memo from Henry Bieniecki, former mayor and assistant to members of the aldermanic finance committee.

Bieniecki questioned the library's proposed 34-cent rate on each $100 assessed valuation. The city code limits library levies to an amount that would produce a 15-cent rate, the same level established by state statutes, Bieniecki said.

He challenged the legality of a higher rate, even though Granite City is a home-rule city with greater taxing power than most municipalities.

THE LIBRARY RATE is part of a total city rate of about $1.59 on each $100 real estate assessment, with taxpayers providing several million dollars annually.

Of that money, only public safety, including police and fire protection, receives more than the library. Public works and the city's general fund each receive less.

The tax levy currently under consideration, for the 1986 tax year, will be the basis for tax collections in the summer of 1987.

The $1,587 municipal rate for 1985 (collection in 1986) consisted of 37.13 cents for public safety, 32.64 for library purposes, 31.56 cents for public works, 23.21 cents for the general fund, 13.94 for firemen's pension, 5.25 cents for bonds and 0.93 cent for health and welfare.

OVERALL, the city collects $2.8 million from real estate taxes. The city's tentative budget for 1986-87 calls for spending $10.8 million.

Library records show the library has operated with an excess of a 15-cent rate for more than a decade. For the 1975 tax year, the rate was 17.4 cents, followed by 18.3, 18.41, 22.24, 31.81, 32.43, 27.5, 27.14, 29.67, 29.36 and 32.64 cents.

"We (aldermen) have to look at the whole picture. I'm not going to vote for a tax levy increase," said Alderman Pat Schuman. "I said Schuman would not say if he sup-

Stevenson satisfied with polls

Illinois voters will be able to sort out the political complexities of this year's gubernatorial ballot and when they do they'll decide a third party for the Nov. 4 gubernatorial election.

Stevenson, a former U.S. Senator who lost to Thompson in the 1982 gubernatorial campaign, was the featured speaker at a $100-a-plate luncheon sponsored by Victory 86, a fund-raising organization headed by St. Louis Mayor Vincent C. Schoemehl Jr. The organization was formed to help finance Democratic candidates.

About 30 people were expected for the luncheon at the Adam's Mark Hotel.

Speaking with reporters before the luncheon, Stevenson said he's satisfied with his position in the campaign. Polls show him about 20 percentage points behind Thompson, but Stevenson noted that he was at this point in the 1982 campaign. Stevenson finished in a dead heat with Thompson in that election, losing by

Aldermen pass city budget

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A $10.8 million budget was passed by Granite City aldermen at a 3-hour meeting Thursday night.

The meeting was the first to be held in the newly remodeled first-floor courtroom of City Hall.

THE BUDGET includes a $1 million capital improvement, repair and replacement fund, created out of a $2.2 million surplus of funds from fiscal 1985.

The budget also includes $263,550 in salaries for 13 new job positions. These include an administrative assistant to Mayor Von Dee Cruse, two new policemen, three police dispatchers, four additional firemen, a public works director and two technicians in the engineering department.

"If you (the aldermen) look at this budget, it's a fair budget," said 5th Ward Alderman Jake Varadani, finance committee chairman.

"I KNOW in this budget there may be things aldermen disagree with," he added. "We can nip-and-tuck and stay here all night and not get anything accomplished. It's only a plan."

Seventh Ward Alderman Mike Modrusic moved to make several amendments to the budget, including placing four permanent positions back into the street department. That motion was unanimously approved by the aldermen.

Modrusic also moved to make the position of civil defense director full-time, but this met opposition from some aldermen.

"WE'VE NEVER had a full-time

IF YOU look at this budget, it's a fair budget. Jake Varadani civil defense director and everything's got done," said 4th Ward Alderman Paul Fisk.

In most emergencies, Fisk said, the police and fire departments normally handle the situation.

"If you want a full-time man down there, he might be sitting down there by himself for a long period of time," said 1st Ward Alderman Cammer Skubish.

COMPTROLLER Joe Miklovic said the additional cost to the city for a full-time civil defense director would be about $15,626.

When the vote was taken, the aldermen split 6-6. The motion was defeated since 6 votes, a majority of the elected aldermen and the mayor, are needed.

Modrusic also moved to eliminate the position of public works director from the budget.

"I THINK we can get along without it and work with the people we have," he said.

"I'm the mayor of the public works director because I don't know what his duties would be," said 4th Ward Alderman Sharon Perjak. Other aldermen and city officials, including the mayor, voiced support for keeping the position in the budget.

VARADANI said the public works director would be needed with the city's annexation program, regionalization of the sewage treatment plant, and the Namecki sewer study.

"We're going to need one man to coordinate all these activities to help our city advance," he said.

"I'm not afraid of hiring a public works director," said Superintendent of Streets Mac Warfield. "I don't know; maybe he can help me."

"DON'T THINK there's an alderman here who doesn't think we need a public works director," Cruse said. "I think it's the most important position we're talking about here."

Cruse asked the aldermen to "try the public works director for a year."

"Instead of trying it for a year, let's wait a year and then think about it," Skubish said.

THE ALDERMEN voted 7-5 not to eliminate the position. Cruse voted with the majority, defeating the motion.

Perjak moved to eliminate two technicians budgeted for the engineering department.

"I think it's silly to hire more people when we can't manage the ones we've got," she said.

OTHER ALDERMEN supported keeping the two employees in the budget.

"I haven't been a great fan of the engineering department because I've seen some things go through the cracks," said 4th Ward Alderman Tom Hewlett. "but I think they need some help."

(City Engineer Edward) Schulze's department probably needs these people. I wanted to wait," Fisk said. "I'm going to lean toward hiring these people."

THE COUNCIL voted 7-5 against removing the two employees from the budget. Cruse again voted with the majority, defeating the motion.

Perjak also moved to remove $250,000 from the library budget. However, the motion died due to the lack of a second.

When the final roll call was taken, the budget passed 8-4 with Aldermen Whitmer, Everett Morien, Paul Fisk, Perjak, Varadani, Woody Moad, Jeff Worthen and Hewlett voting to approve the budget.

VOTING "no" were Aldermen Modrusic, Skubish, Bailey and Whitaker.

Aldermen Pat Schuman and Brett Hanke were absent.

Telephone tax repeal delayed

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Action to repeal the 5 percent telephone tax was put on "hold" Thursday night at a special meeting of the Granite City Council.

The aldermen approved a 4-a motion by 6th Ward Alderman Woody Moad to table action on an ordinance repealing the tax. The ordinance will be brought back onto the council floor in September.

THE ORDINANCE was introduced Tuesday at a regular meeting of the council and was placed on first reading.

It was the same ordinance which was defeated 7-6 by the aldermen Aug. 27, 1985.

Moad moved to table action because the council cannot legally vote on the ordinance again until one year has passed from when it was defeated.

FIRST WARD Alderman Sam Whitmer questioned whether voting to table action on the ordinance was legal since the special meeting was called to vote on the proposed fiscal 1987 city budget.

"What we're attempting to do isn't right — it's illegal," Whitmer said. Voting to table action were Aldermen Moad, Mike Modrusic, Cammer Skubish, Sharon Perjak, Jake Varadani, Lloyd Bailey, Jeff Worthen and Tom Hewlett.

VOTING "no" were Aldermen Whitmer, Everett Morien, Paul Fisk and Jeff Whitaker. Absent were Aldermen Pat Schuman and Brett Hanke.

The telephone tax generates $250,000 annually for the city.

Voters opposed the tax in a non-binding referendum in April 1985.

Jeffries hired as Coolidge principal

GRANITE CITY — Jim Jeffries will return to Coolidge Junior High School next year as its principal.

Jeffries, 44, has been employed by District 9 since graduating from SIUE in 1963. He was assistant principal at the school at the beginning of the 1985-86 school year.

"I'm very happy to have been selected," said Jeffries. "I look forward to working in that building."

Because he spent three months at Coolidge last year, he expects the transition to be a smooth one. He replaces Mike Sikora in the Coolidge principal's office.

"I'm particularly interested in continuing the fine job done by Mike Sikora," Jeffries said. "I want to carry on the many fine programs he had in place."

Jeffries came to the district August 30, 1963 as a social studies teacher at the high school. He taught there for seven years before becoming assistant prin-

Board schedules meeting; Redmond to be discussed

By Bill Milligan

GRANITE CITY — The future of Superintendent Max Redmond will be the topic of a special meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday at 6 p.m.

During a special meeting of the board Wednesday, Redmond was asked to leave the room. The board discussed an article which appeared in the July 23 Press-Record Journal.

The article concerned Redmond's and high school principal Gib Walsley's search for new employment.

The board met for five minutes in open session. It met four hours and 58 minutes in closed session.

During an executive session the board interviewed candidates for the Coolidge Junior High School principal's position and reviewed procedures for finding replacements for Redmond and Walsley.

Representatives of the offices of the Illinois attorney general and the state superintendent of schools would not discuss the meeting. Both agreed that general discussions of hiring procedure were not permitted in closed session.

"Discussion of hiring procedures do not appear to be an exception to the Open Meetings Act unless they pertain to a specific individual or individuals," said Eugene Finley, a public relations spokesman for State Superintendent Ted Sanders.

"Based on what you've told me, it is a relatively clear violation of the Open Meetings Act," said Phil Mueller, a spokesman for Attorney General Neil Hartigan.

Randy Massey, a representative of State's Attorney Dick Allen's office said he would have one of the attorneys in the civil division call this newspaper on Monday.

Board member John Terrell opposed the discussion during the meeting, saying he thought the board should wait until a vacancy occurred before discussing how it will be filled.

Board members will ask Redmond to formally announce at the meeting his intention to search for a new job.

The board could vote to reassign Redmond to a school principalship. A position is open at Marshall School.

The discussion was reportedly initiated by member Kelly Hogan.

"It's up to the board, not Kelly Hogan," Hogan said Friday.

The board convened its Wednesday meeting at 6:01 p.m., voted to enter executive session at 6:06, but discussed the purchase of ceiling fans for various school buildings with Ron Landman, buildings and grounds director, until 6:15.

"Discussions relating to items such as ceiling fans are not appropriate exceptions to the Open Meetings Act," said Finley.

The board returned to open session at 11:15 p.m. The stated reason for the executive session was discussion of personnel.

Thursday, July 27, 1961
Granite City's budget continued to grow Monday night during a City Council meeting called to cut spending. Spending increased $23,484 by the close of a two-and-a-half hour meeting. The total budget is $1,600,640. Added were two new jobs and $25 raises for each of the city's 140 employees.

Telephone tax change merely clouds issue

The public voted in April 1985 to remove the telephone tax. To remove it.

They did not vote to change the way telephone tax money is spent. They did not vote to earmark it for a particular fund. They voted to stop paying it.

This elementary explanation is so plain that even the least educated can comprehend its meaning.

Yet, some aldermen refuse to recognize what the public said in April 1985.

Four want to keep the tax. They argue, rightly, that the city can use the money and the tax is small. The public that pays the telephone tax knows the situation; however, they voted to remove the tax and by virtue of their voices being the ones aldermen are elected to represent, the tax should be removed.

Nine aldermen voted to put removal of the tax on first reading. Since that has been done, some of those same aldermen seem to be trying to reverse their votes by clouding the issue.

They want to keep the tax. To do so, they want to earmark it for sewer repairs, a virtually meaningless gesture.

Spending the money on sewers sounds important enough, especially to those with flooded basements. But they know $250,000 won't do much toward ending the multi-million dollar problem.

In addition, the city spends "x" on sewer repairs each year anyway. Something much more substantial than the telephone tax, as noted in March 1985 by Mac Warfield, is needed to solve the sewer problems.

What it comes down to is that designating the tax for sewers or anything else isn't what the public voted to do.

The public voted to remove the tax.

Some aldermen refuse to do what the public told them.

Some aldermen claim to get "sick" when they read editorials that resolve that the public should be heard on this issue.

Certainly aldermen are in a better position than most of the public to know the city's financial problems, but the public is the power behind each alderman. What the public wants, it deserves.

And they want the tax removed.

When the vote comes in September, the people will know who is representing them.

Is Redmond leaving?

The freshest air to roll into this little steel town in a long while is apparently rolling back out.

District 9 Superintendent Max Redmond, who has become something of a local folk hero for having stood his moral ground, is looking elsewhere for work and his days in this hapless school district appear numbered.

No one can blame the man for wanting to leave the miserable conditions created for him here by the School Board.

In how many other school districts can the public and teachers support an administrator so strongly only to see the school board president, our own Dewey Melton, ask the man to resign?

The basis for Redmond's problem with the board seems mainly rooted in hirings. His way was to let a committee decide who should be hired and then to recommend those persons. The board's way, in our view, was to let the committee recommend persons and then to hire those they planned to hire anyway.

Redmond's way seems the better. The public agrees. Many teachers agree.

But the board, ostensibly because it has greater knowledge, disagrees.

Perhaps the real reason for disagreement is that hiring the best person for a job might take away the power to give a job to a political ally.

The only thing worse than thinking that Melton, Alan Grider, Monroe Worthen and perhaps two other board members are going to be successful in driving Redmond from the district is that those same persons will be responsible for bringing in a new superintendent.

If it's a local person, with few exceptions, the person hired will be someone who kowtows to the board: Yessah, Missah School Board, I be doin' what you sez. Based on the Redmond experience, for a new superintendent to do less, it seems, will mean the "masters" will use the whips of attempts at public ridicule, investigating the person's past and driving the person from the district.

It is doubtful anyone with backbone will be brought in from outside the district. Redmond's plight in District 9 is widely known.

If Redmond leaves, and it seems there's little choice, this district can expect no good to come of it.

Colleges now link Illinois, London

I recently attended the Inaugural Convocation at Regent's College in London, England. My son-in-law, Norman Stewart, was formally installed as president of the College.

Dr. Stewart is also president of Rockford College, Rockford, Ill., and was the guiding force in acquiring the London campus.

Europeans have a sense of history, and cherish this history. They have so much more of it than we do. Regent's College is no exception.

They can boast that they are located in the vicinity of an ancient Roman road. History shows there was a minor house on the property prior to 666 A.D., which later became an abbey.

The site was also recorded in the Domesday Book in 1086 in the reign of William the Conqueror.

In 1538, Henry VIII used the site as a hunting park, naming it Marylebone Park, and it thus became part of the Crown Estate.

The name Marylebone is still in use in the neighborhood today, as a street name and as one of the local station names for the London underground railway.

It was also recorded that Oliver Cromwell had the trees in the park cleared for the Navy in 1649. Between 1811 and 1826, the Prince Regent, later George IV, had architect John Nash create Regent's Park.

Bedford College University of London, founded in 1849 as the first University College for women, built a new campus on the site in 1913.

The present campus was acquired from the Crown Estate in 1964 when Bedford College surrendered its lease.

DR. GEORGE A. ROSENTHAL is today's Your Views writer. He is one of the ministers of the Granite City Mission.

The Crown has provided a grant of 1.75 million Pounds Sterling to the new college for renovation of campus buildings. They have even loaned to the college a historic portrait of George Washington belonging to the Royal Collection.

Regent's College offers university-level programs, accredited in the United States, in many disciplines for undergraduate and postgraduate students. It registers more than 1,000 students annually who are predominantly from America, Britain and continental Europe.

The College intends to pursue an aim of academic excellence for its undergraduate and graduate students in a delightful setting among trees and ornamental gardens in Regent's Park in the heart of central London.

The campus consists of a dozen ivy-clad buildings enclosing a quadrangle and surrounded by broad lawns, ancient trees, tennis courts, and gardens.

Regent's College shares the Park with the residence of the American ambassador to the Court of St. James, the London Zoo, the Shakespeare Open Air Theater, Queen Mary's Garden, bandstand, bird sanctuary, tennis courts and playing fields, as well as the lake, extensive lawns and flower gardens for outdoor enjoyment.

My daughter, Nancy, and her husband, Dr. Stewart, have an apartment, or flat as it is called by Londoners, on campus.

They spend several weeks in London spread throughout the year, and the summer months allow them to bring their children with them. The two older boys already are familiar with London and can go about the city with ease.

The British Museum, Buckingham Palace, Trafalgar Square, Westminster Abbey, the Houses of Parliament and the River Thames are all within a two-mile radius of the campus. I really enjoyed my stay with them this June.

Dr. Norman L. Stewart, the president of Rockford College, and now also the president of Regent's College, graduated from Belleville Township High School and attended the University of Illinois.

He graduated from Wheaton College, earned his master's and Ph.D. (doctor of philosophy degree in history) at St. Louis University where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

He attended Princeton Theological Seminary and the University at Freiburg, and was a Fulbright Fellow at the University of Bonn in Germany.

He led archaeological expeditions in Jordan, and spent one year as a researcher in the Political Archives of the German Foreign Ministry. He was also the resident director at the Near East School of Archaeology in Jerusalem.

Rockford College under his administration has seen extensive changes. New academic programs have been developed and new faculty members have been recruited to staff both the old and the new areas of learning.

The College campus has been extensively renovated and improved, and of course the recent acquisition of Regent's College in London provides special educational opportunities for its students.

I am justly proud of the part my daughter and son-in-law have played in this exciting venture.

Broadening your horizons and learning about other parts of the world have so much more importance in the world we live in today and we applaud those responsible for looking to the future.

To the editor:

I would like to reply to the column printed Sunday, July 20, concerning store opening and closing hours.

If the author of that column had a child desperately in need of cough syrup, the child surely was coughing at 7 or 8 o'clock, or did the cough develop at 8:45?

Obviously, they had made no attempt to give the child medication earlier, since they did not know they were in need of cough syrup.

Who was he angry with? Himself, for neglect, or the clerks who might have had sick children waiting for their attention?

Managers and clerks spend a great deal more time than they are paid for.

The extra time is usually due to people who watch TV or whatever until 8:50 and decide they can't wait until morning to check the price of merchandise they had seen earlier.

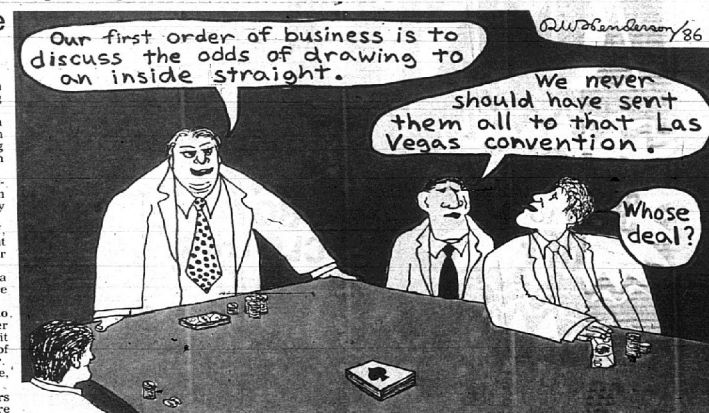

Note that I said check the price, not buy the merchandise.

Sales cannot be closed or registers counted until the customers are gone. The stores must be straight for the a.m. crews.

Add on 15-20 minutes to clean up the "lookers" mess.

We clerks must "grin and bear it," but there are people who like to browse in magazines at 8:55 that make it extremely difficult to smile.

LaRouche backlash unexpected, small

The response to this column from two pro-Lyndon LaRouche supporters within Granite City came as a shock, at first.

What I had expected was that some people in Granite City would certainly be filled with righteous rage that we gave LaRouche a column in their hometown newspaper that gave him a forum for expressing his views.

No one complained that we requested, received and printed an article written by Lyndon LaRouche that gave him a forum for expressing his views.

That was the first surprise. The second was that the two complaints we did get both apparently came from LaRouche supporters.

It had never occurred to me that he might have support here, but it should have since Mark Fairchild and Janice Hart did win two primary seats while espousing LaRouche's views.

The criticism, directed at this column, wasn't particularly spirited. The column itself wasn't very exciting. It's purpose was to explain why we let LaRouche present his views, and to discuss the popular use of the press as a whipping boy by LaRouche and other politicians.

One person sent a one-sentence letter stating the column was "garbage in our yard."

The other picked on the way I used the word "media" in the singular form. Rezoning approved for duplex

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A house at 2238 Missouri Ave. will be rezoned as a multi-family residence.

The Granite City Council voted Tuesday night to concur with a recommendation from the planning and zoning commission to rezone the property from a single family residence (R-3) to a two-family residential district (R-4). The commissioners unanimously voted at their July 10 meeting to approve the rezoning.

THE OWNER of the house, Peggy Peterson of Chesterfield, Mo., told the aldermen she recently purchased the 10-room building and wanted to renovate it into a two-family duplex.

"We have certain things we need to develop in West Granite," said resident Harry Sales, who encouraged Peterson to develop the property.

However, some residents of the area are opposed to the rezoning. GENE FRITH, of 2239 Missouri Ave., told the aldermen he has lived across the street from Peterson's property for 39 years. He said the house is not designed for two families.

"That house he's (Sales) speaking about is so run down, I don't know how they can put two families in there," Frith said.

A petition, with 33 signatures from residents of Missouri and Illinois avenues opposing the rezoning, was presented to the council by 4th Ward Alderwoman Sharon Perjak.

PERJAK SAID she was against the rezoning since Peterson doesn't live in Granite City.

"We'll have all the problems of a landlord not living in town," she said.

Fifth Ward Alderman Jake Varadian said he spoke with city building inspector John Jakich about the improvements Peterson wanted to do to the house.

"WITH THE PROPOSED improvements they want to make to that house, it would be an asset to the area," Varadian said.

A study, done by Jakich, found 25 percent of the buildings in that area were duplexes, and that the rezoning was necessary. If 40 percent of the homes in the area are already duplexes, rezoning would not have been required.

The council approved the recommendation 9-3, with aldermen

Everett Morlen, Pat Schuman, Paul Fisk, Mike Modrusic, Casmer Skubish, Varadian, Lloyd Bailey, Woody Moad and Jeff Worthen voting "yes."

VOTING "no" were aldermen Perjak, Judy Whitaker and Tom Hewlett. Absent were aldermen Sam Whitmer and Brett Hanke.

The aldermen unanimously decided to concur with a recommendation from the commission to proceed with annexation of property at 2300 St. Bernard Ave., owned by James Harris.

The council also unanimously decided to concur with the commission in approving preliminary plans for a subdivision to be located at Pontoon and Maryville roads, behind the Colonial Bank of Granite City.

River cargo to reach 1.5 billion tons at dam

On Tuesday, July 29, the 3,500,000,000 ton of cargo is expected to transit through Locks and Dam 26 at Alton.

This cumulative total of waterborne commerce has been building up since 1938 and marks a major milestone in the life of this navigation structure, a spokesman said.

"It will undoubtedly be the last such milestone since this facility will go out of business when the new replacement lock-dam opens in 1988," he noted.

The St. Louis District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, plans to mark the occasion with a ribbon-breaking, brief ceremony, and the presentation of a commemorative certificate to the captain and crew of the towboat which achieves the record.

Representatives of the U.S. Coast Guard and the barge industry are being invited to attend. The specific towboat will be identified, through traffic projections, a day or so before the event. At that point, the pilot will be requested to adjust his speed appropriately to arrive at the lock as close as possible to 10 a.m. on Tuesday.

The spokesman noted: —1,300,000,000 tons equals 3 trillion (3,000,000,000,000) pounds. —1.5 billion tons would fill a million standard hopper barges.

—One million standard barges (195 feet long) would form a single line 37,000 miles long (1 1/2 times around the earth).

—3 trillion pounds is the equivalent of 12,500 pounds each for every man, woman and child in the U.S.

The average tow going through this area 18 1/2 barges carrying 76,500 tons; the maximum is 13 barges with 22,500 tons.

Construction of the Alton locks and dam started Jan. 13, 1934. The facility was officially opened to traffic in 1938.

Federal cost was $12.8 million (less than a cent per-ton of cargo passed through) for construction; the figure does not include operating and maintenance costs.

Traffic in 1983 totaled 1.4 million tons. The peak year, 1983, brought 73.7 million tons.

The designed life of the project was 50 years.

LD-26 was built to the state-of-the-art of the early 1930s, when designed. It has deteriorated significantly over the years, but is still expected to reach its life expectancy of 50 years. Maintenance costs have been on the increase, officials said.

A more severe problem has been the overall growth in waterborne commerce, plus the increased size and power of towboats.

"The old locks are simply inadequate to handle the flow of today's traffic; serious traffic backups and costly delays have been experienced," the spokesman said.

The replacement project two miles downstream is expected to start operating in 1988, with completion scheduled for 1991.

Heat stroke presentation slated at Township Hall

GRANITE CITY — A free presentation on heat stroke first-aid will be given at 41 a.m. Thursday, July 31, at the Granite City Township Hall, 2600 Delmar Ave.

The program is co-sponsored by St. Elizabeth Medical Center and Nelson Hagnauer, township supervisor.

A PROFESSIONAL nurse will discuss and answer questions regarding heat stroke and how to prevent it.

Specific topics that will be addressed are the causes and symptoms of heat stroke and how to prevent it.

All senior citizens who are not aware of the special health care methods which are available to prevent heat stroke are encouraged to attend.

THE PRESENTATION, which is scheduled to last about 45 minutes, is open to all interested persons, though it is geared for people 55 years of age and older.

The presentation is the first in a series of health programs which will be held at the township hall each Thursday morning.

The Aug. 7 presentation will deal with home health programs.

Trial dates set for 4

A judge Friday set trial dates for four of five remaining defendants in a case involving allegations of bribery in connection with tax assessment reductions.

Associate Judge Charles V. Romani Jr. set the trial of Fred Finck, a former member of the Madison County Board of Review, for Aug. 25. It was against the wishes of Special Prosecutor Bruce D. Locher, who wanted to try three other defendants first.

Those defendants are James W. Barton, former county supervisor of assessments, Gerald Bassett, a former assistant to Barton, and Merle Bassett, a lawyer and father of Gerald Bassett. Romani set their trial for Sept. 15.

No trial date has been set for another defendant, lawyer Robert Quinn.

Locher argued in a hearing that trying Barton and the Bassetts first "best serves the people's interest," but Romani said the Finck case is closest to being ready for trial and scheduling it first best serves the interest of judicial economy.

Romani also denied Locher's motion that the judge reconsider his rulings severing the trial of Quinn and Finck from that of the others. Locher argued that, under Illinois law, defendants charged together should be tried together unless they can show clearly that being tried with other defendants would prejudice their rights to fair trials.

He said such a showing had not been made, but Romani said he had considered the matter carefully before he severed the trials of Quinn and Finck and did not intend to change his ruling.

The defendants are accused of participation in a scheme to exchange assessment reductions for contributions to a fund set up to help Barton pay for his defense against unrelated criminal charges brought against him in 1982.

Wright joins Smith staff in Milwaukee

Charles S. Wright, 33, has been named administrator corporate communication for A.O. Smith Corp., Milwaukee. The announcement was made by Edward J. O'Connor, vice president of human resources and public affairs.

Wright will be responsible for defining, developing and implementing local, regional and national publicity programs for Smith product lines. He will also handle corporate financial, public relations assignments and be involved in internal communications and community and local press relations activities.

Computer to aid contact with victims, witnesses of crimes

A new computer system financed with federal funds is expected to improve efficiency in the operation of the Madison County state attorney's office.

A $21,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Justice distributed through the Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority will purchase a Rapid Automated Prosecution System (RAPS).

RAPS is a pre-packaged computer system for prosecutors, said Jerry Brown, director of victim assistance for the state's attorney's office.

Brown said the system will allow sharing of information related to law enforcement, help with record keeping tasks now performed manually, and allow access to legal research databases.

He said the system will allow the exchange of information with other prosecutors' offices which have the system, and provide access to the Illinois State Police records system.

The system will be one of 15 "pilot" programs in Illinois counties, Brown said. The federal money will be matched by a designated portion of Brown's salary and that of another employee, he said.

Council meeting could be longest on record

GRANITE CITY — A meeting that lasted almost five hours Tuesday night at the Granite City Council is one of the longest ones recorded by the City Council, city officials said.

"It's one of the longest we've ever had," said City Clerk Robert Stevens, who has held that office for 16 years.

Tuesday's meeting at Township Hall started at 7:30 p.m. following a finance committee meeting concerning the library budget. The meeting was adjourned at 12:15 a.m. Wednesday — five minutes short of being five hours long.

"I hope we don't have any more (like that)," Stevens said.

"That's the longest one I've ever sat through," said 1st Ward Alderman Everett Morlen, a 14-year veteran of the council.

"If it ain't the longest, it's sure close to it," said 2nd Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer.

A council member for 32 consecutive years, Whitmer said he recalled a meeting "some years ago" that started at 8 p.m. and adjourned past midnight. But Tuesday's meeting was the longest he could remember.

"It's the longest meeting I've ever been to where we accomplished nothing," he said.

Dean will speak to Rotary club

MADISON — Dawson R. Dean, governor of District 646, Rotary International, will address a meeting of the Madison-Venice Rotary Club at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday, July 30.

The meeting will be held at Voloski's Fried Chicken Restaurant at 1300 Madison Ave., said William Moore, president of the local club.

Dean, who has been governor since July 1, has been involved in livestock and grain farming since 1957. He received the American Farmer Degree the same year.

He is a member of the Pike County Park Producers, was a member of the Pike County Soil and Water Conservation Board and was manager of the Norco Co-op Inc. for 10 years.

Dean is active in the Masons, Shriners, Scottish Rite and Knights Templar.

He is past president of Abraham Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi, past president of the Pittsford Rotary Club, past governor's aide for District 646, District Group Study Exchange Committee chairman, GSE team member to Australia in 1972, GSE team leader to England in 1975 and chairperson for the Midwest South District Youth Exchange to Manchester, England, in 1985.

Dean has traveled as a member of a group to South America with People to People Agriculture in 1984. He also participated in the Midwest Swine Producers agriculture trip to Europe and Great Britain in 1970.

He was named a Paul Harris Fellow by the Quincy East Rotary Club in 1981.

Dean, who lives in Griggsville, is married and has three children.

BAC briefs

Trustees back Army plan

Proposed relocation of the Army Reserve Training Center from Fort McCoy, Wis., to Granite City received the unanimous endorsement of BAC trustees July 16.

Presently, the Army employs 136 teachers and retrainers nearly 7,500 technicians at the center each year. Moving the center to the St. Louis area could save transportation costs, said Army spokesman Clyde Jones.

"It takes 11 hours to get to Ft. McCoy from St. Louis," Jones said.

Jones asked for the support of everyone in the area in bringing the center to Granite City.

Because the Army is contracting for training and educational services from private contractors, Jones said BAC and its Granite City Campus could be one of the beneficiaries of the move.

Granite City is one of three sites still in the running for the training center, Jones said. The other two are Ft. McCoy and a site in Detroit. A decision is expected this December, after the re-election campaign of U.S. Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis. Aspin is chairman of the House armed services committee.

GCC registration rises

Registration at the Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College is up 3 percent over last year, according to BAC spokesperson Kathy O'Dell.

Enrollment figures are a sharp reversal of the 36 percent decline in enrollment which caused alarm when released last May.

Since the May review of enrollment, GCC faculty initiated directed action, inviting enrollment by direct phone contact with potential students and former students.

More than 400 courses are offered at GCC, O'Dell said. Interested students may register at the campus from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m., Monday through Thursday, or 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. on Friday.

Students may also register by phoning 981-0600. Representatives of the college can assist with financial aid. The college allows students to pay for courses after enrollment, or by MasterCard and Visa.

"Adults shouldn't be apprehensive about taking that first step," O'Dell said. "The average age of our students is over 30. There are people there who can help assess students' needs."

Administrators change titles

Three changes in administrative titles were approved by trustees at the July 16 meeting.

Trustees created a dean of personnel from the old Office of Personnel and Business Services. The comptroller became director of business services and comptroller.

The purchasing agent became director of purchasing.

Trustees also voted to recommend by interim vice chancellor Larry Smalleganger, who advocated changes in administrative duties.

Smalleganger suggested changes which would allow BAC personnel more time to perform "the duties they were hired to do."

Among the changes was an upgrade of the custodial program and employment of a night custodial supervisor.

Other changes were suggested in the personnel, business and buildings and grounds departments. Three new positions would be created under Smalleganger's recommendations.

"How is this going to help us reduce our payroll?" asked Larry Reinbeck, trustee.

Trustees took no action on the recommendation, opting to wait until a vice chancellor is named.

GCC receives JTPA grants

Trustees this month accepted two grants, totaling more than $82,000 for Job Training Partnership Act programs at the Granite City Campus.

Approved was the receipt of a $47,929 grant for operation of a JTPA early school leaver program from July 1, 1986, until June 30, 1987.

Of the grant, $23,659 comes from the state, $11,017 from matching funds and $13,252 from in-kind funding.

Trustees also approved accepting a $34,257 JTPA grant for operation of a basic educational skills program at GCC.

Poos is math instructor

Carol Poos will be mathematics instructor at the Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College next year at an annual salary of $14,760.

She will begin Aug. 18. Her appointment fills a vacancy created by the retirement of Genevieve Snider.

GCC to explain scholarships

Student activity scholarships will be the topic of a meeting July 30 from noon to 1 p.m. at the Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College.

Terry Collins, director of student activities, will explain the Student Activity Committee (SAC) to interested students.

Applications for three SAC positions will be distributed at the meeting. The program will include a discussion of possible activities for the school year, Collins said.

Students interested in the tuition scholarship who are unable to attend Wednesday may contact Collins at 931-0600. Further questions can be directed to Collins at the same number.

Medicare patients' rights emphasized

In an effort to help Medicare patients understand their rights to quality care in the nation's hospitals, a nationwide effort is being made to provide them with more information about their discharges and their right to appeal discharge decisions.

The greater awareness is expected to reduce instances of so-called "quicker and sicker" discharges and any public perception of declining quality of hospital care for Medicare patients.

Under the plan, a message explaining patients' rights and appeal procedures will be provided to all of the more than 9 million Medicare patients admitted each year to hospitals which are reimbursed under Medicare's prospective payment system.

This new system has resulted in the need for greater patient awareness of appeal rights under the Medicare program, a spokesman said.

Under the prospective payment system, which went into effect in October 1983, hospital services for Medicare patients are reimbursed according to pre-set rates, which vary according to diagnosis. The rates reflect average costs of treating specific conditions.

As the "message from Medicare" explains, hospitals must inform Medicare patients 48 hours in advance of a hospital-initiated discharge.

If patients feel they are being asked to leave the hospital prematurely, they or their authorized representative should file an appeal by telephone or in writing with the peer review organization (PRO), a physician organization under contract with Medicare to review the hospital treatment of Medicare patients.

The PRO will review the case in question and decide within 3 working days after receiving the appeal.

If the decision supports the need for continued hospitalization, the patient can remain in the hospital under Medicare payment until the next discharge decision point is reached.

If the PRO decides that Medicare payment is no longer appropriate, the patient becomes liable for all hospital costs starting the day after receiving the written discharge notice. The name, address and telephone number of the PRO servicing that hospital will be listed on the written message.

Anyone who needs more information on this process may call the East St. Louis Social Security office.

Auto parts sites studied

Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (IDCCA) officials were given a tour July 17 of Madison and St. Clair counties by area economic development promoters targeting the region for auto parts manufacturing plants.

About 13 IDCCA officials who are potentially involved in working with auto parts companies participated in the tour, said James Pennekamp, president of the Greater Alton Twin Rivers Growth Association.

Pennekamp is on the marketing committee of the Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois which sponsored the tour.

Pennekamp said area development officials, including himself, plan to visit several Canadian auto parts manufacturers in the fall to try to interest them in locating in this area.

Magna International Corp. of Canada earlier this year announced plans to build a large new plant at Nashville, Ill.

IDCCA officials also recently confirmed that other foreign auto parts manufacturers, which they would not identify, is currently looking at Madison and St. Clair counties for a possible plant site.

IDCCA Director Jay Hedges has said he expects a decision from that company within 60 days and "there is a real good chance they'll do it in the Metro East area."

DCA spokesman Tom Laue said the company involved has insisted on not being identified at this time and the project is "still under close wraps at this moment."

Laue also said the agency was not commenting at this time on whether any state financial incentives were being offered to lure the auto parts firm, as was done for the Magna plant at Nashville.

Sites near Glen Carbon and Troy that were proposed for the General Motors Saturn plant a few years ago are reportedly the Madison County locations most likely to be considered by the unidentified manufacturer, which is also looking at sites in other states as well, sources indicated.

Madison County is considering lease of nature trail property

Madison County officials are considering renewing a lease on the Madison County Nature Trail property.

The matter will be reviewed by the state's attorney's office. Members of the County Board's Buildings Committee agreed at a meeting Monday to refer the matter to the office after a presentation by Madison County Nature Trail Volunteers Inc.

"It's a good county facility — something to be proud of," said George Arnold of Nature Trail Volunteers. "If the trail were lost, there would be a lot of people bitterly disappointed."

The six-mile trail is an old railroad right of way. It runs from near Montclair Shopping Center in Edwardsville to Pontoon Beach.

County officials have considered ending the lease in August because of concerns about liability. The county has had problems securing general liability insurance coverage and views the trail as a stumbling block.

But Arnold showed the committee a state statute that appears to release local governments from liability for injuries occurring in public parks, playgrounds and recreational areas, except in cases of "willful and wanton negligence."

Trail volunteers maintain the property and reimburse the county for the $633 annual lease payment. They paid the county earlier this month to renew the lease for another year.

"I'm for the thing as long as it doesn't cost the county," said board member Anthony Bosich, D-Wood River. He said he is an ardent bicycle rider and would like to keep the trail.

Jack Frandsen, D-Alhambra, said he is skeptical of the statute Arnold referred to. "I don't believe what this says here because of how judges rule," he said.

James Monday, county director of administration, and an attorney working on the county's insurance coverage also will review the trail situation.

"Certainly, we haven't closed the door yet," said Herbert "Junior" Milton, D-Granite City, Milton is chairman of the Buildings Committee.

Trail volunteers have obtained signatures in favor of keeping the trail and hope some day to extend it to Cahokia Mounds.

Natural gas from pipeline to cost less in this region

Mississippi River Transmission Corp. (MRT) has filed rate reductions with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) that will lower costs to its "sale for resale" customers by about $22.5 million per year.

MRT's filing is to be effective July 1, 1986, subject to FERC approval.

MRT President Jim Whitte said the rate decrease reflects MRT's continued success in purchasing natural gas on a least-cost basis.

MRT's July 1 filing is its fifth successive gas cost reduction since the spring of last year, lowering its rate to utility and municipal customers in Missouri, Illinois and Arkansas by about 20 percent.

The company's direct industrial customers are receiving the benefits of such cost reduction efforts under separate sales contracts.

MRT was recently acquired by Arkla Inc. following a Federal Trade Commission ruling that Occidental Petroleum Corp. had to divest itself of MRT as part of a settlement agreement reached during Occidental's acquisition of MidCon Corp. of Lombard, Ill.

MRT's principal market is the St. Louis metropolitan area. Laclede Gas Co. is its largest customer.

Ground is broken for Cahokia Mounds' new $5 million museum

Gov. James R. Thompson broke ground July 22 on the $5.5 million Cahokia Mounds Museum and Interpretive Center.

"It is through geographic good fortune that Illinois has been graced with such a historically significant site as Cahokia Mounds," the governor said. "But it is with great pride and a strong sense of history that we maintain this and other historical sites in Illinois. This project is the latest example of how we make them accessible and receptive to visitors."

"My goal in creating the Illinois Preservation Agency last year was to ensure that the state's historic sites, many of which rank among the finest in the nation, would be maintained and developed for the fullest enjoyment of the public and protected for the generations to come."

"People travel great distances to view the Cahokia Mounds, and the planned museum will enrich their visits," he said.

The joint museum and interpretive center, easily accessible from Interstate 55-70, will be a one-story structure covering 33,000 square feet, said Gary J. Skoien, executive director of the Capital Development Board (CDB), which will oversee the construction.

"CDB is proud to be part of this project due to the unique nature of the facility," said Skoien, referring to the proposed "mirrored box" that will provide visitors with a "hands on" experience of Cahokia life.

Michael J. Devine, director of the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency, which administers the site, said,

"The box will give visitors the feeling that they are in the midst of the huge prehistoric community that stretches across the prairie in all directions."

Devine said Cahokia was inhabited by as many as 40,000 native American villagers between 1000 A.D. and 1200 A.D.

Devine added that it is the desire of the Historic Preservation Agency, which administers all state historic sites, to offer visitors to the sites first-hand opportunities to learn about the state's history.

The museum and interpretive center will be complete in the fall of 1987, and planned exhibits will take another year to install.

Streets to be closed for railroad work by GC Steel in August

GRANITE CITY — Two blocks of Grand Avenue and State Street will be closed for a short time in August. The Granite City Council Tuesday night unanimously approved a request from Granite City Steel to close two blocks of the streets.

Permission was given to close Grand Avenue, from 15th to 17th streets, from Sunday, Aug. 3, through Saturday, Aug. 9.

Approval was also given to close State Street, from 15th to 17th streets, from Sunday, Aug. 10, through Sunday, Aug. 17.

Granite City Steel requested the roads be closed in order to replace railroad crossings in those areas.

Mortgages set record

Illinois savings institutions closed a record $1.1 billion in mortgages during May, 65 percent more than in May 1985, the Illinois League of Savings Institutions has determined. The loan volume represents the highest one-month total on record, easily surpassing the previous high of $867 million in June 1979.

The robust performance pushed the mortgage loan total for the first five months of 1986 to $3.6 billion, or 62 percent more than 1985's comparable period.

DUI law sidelines 20,230 offenders

Secretary of State Jim Edgar said last week that during the first six months of the new DUI law, 93 percent of those arrested for drunk driving have lost their driving privileges.

"The new DUI (driving under the influence) law continues to work well and the results clearly show we are getting more drunk drivers off our highways," Edgar said.

In Madison County, 1986 license actions totaled 605, up 1,535 percent over the 37 (34 revocations and 3 suspensions) a year ago.

The 605 included 31 revocations, 442 suspensions for failure to pass the sobriety test and 132 suspensions for refusal to take the test.

"For the first six months of the new law, through the end of June, 20,230 DUI offenders have lost their driving privileges compared to 3,360 through the first half of 1985," Edgar said.

"We are making highways safer for all drivers by showing that drunk drivers face swift and certain punishment."

Edgar said loss of license is the most effective deterrent to drunk driving and he credited law enforcement agencies with much of the success of the new law.

He said technical questions involving the revised law have been answered and procedures are now working smoothly. Edgar said there was good cooperation between law enforcement, circuit clerks and the secretary of state's office.

"Strong highway safety laws can only be successful if law enforcement agencies are behind them," Edgar said. "In this instance, that support has paid dividends in the form of saved lives."

Highway fatalities in Illinois have dropped from nearly 2,000 in 1980 to 1,552 in 1985. Fatalities for the first six months of 1986 showed a 4.1 percent drop.

Edgar said the decline was particularly significant because the number of miles driven was up sharply in 1986.

Edgar is confident the new DUI law will be upheld once it is heard by the Illinois Supreme Court.

"The Supreme Court recently ruled in favor of administrative revocation of driver licenses," he said. "Since that procedure is even stronger than the new statutory summary suspension, I have every reason to believe the justices will declare the new law constitutional."

"There has been a perception by some that this law is hampered because of controversial circuit challenges. But only a handful of circuit court judges have questioned the constitutionality of the new DUI law, compared to the overwhelming majority who have been upholding it."

Illinois' 1986 DUI law calls for a three-month driver license suspension for failing a blood alcohol content (BAC) test and a six-month suspension for refusing to take the test.

Suspensions begin 46 days after arrest. Persons may request a pre-suspension judicial hearing on probable cause.

Other six-month statistics show 78 percent of those arrested for DUI were first-time offenders.

The average age of a drunk driver was 32, with males between ages 21-24 having the highest rate of DUI per 1,000 drivers.

Eighty-eight percent of DUIs were male and the average blood alcohol content was 0.18. The legal limit of intoxication in Illinois is 0.10.

Under Illinois' new drunk driving law, comprehensive statewide statistics on DUI arrests are being sent to the secretary of state's office for the first time.

The January-June 1986 statistics disclose:

• 93 percent of DUI offenders lost driving privileges; 92 percent of first-time DUI offenders and 95 percent of repeat offenders lost driving privileges.

• Nine percent of arrested drunk drivers were under age 21.

• 13.6 out of every 1,000 male drivers ages 21-24 were arrested and given statutory suspension, four times the rate per thousand of other drivers (3.4).

It doesn't cost much to Stay Cool.

Ah, iced tea. It's cool, refreshing and inexpensive. You can buy a glass for about 50 cents, and, if you drink it in 15 minutes, your cost of staying cool is about 3 1/2 cents per minute. It seems like a bargain until you consider the cost of cooling your home for 24 hours. The typical home can be cooled for much less than a penny per minute, or $2.10 a day. Any way you look at it, air conditioning is a good value. It's the cost efficient way to stay cool.

If you have questions about using air conditioning efficiently and affordably, contact your Marketing Advisor at Illinois Power.

July 4 most successful ever

If attendance and net profits are any indication, the 1986 July 4 celebration at Wilson Park was the best ever for the Granite City Park District.

The Park District took in $41,507 during the five-day event. Receipts were $3,845 more than expenses.

The only problem was the fireworks, said President George Sykes.

"Because of humidity and low cloud cover, the company said, its fireworks were not going as high as they were supposed to be before exploding. The company experimented with a new type of shell that was tried at the show, said Park Director Steve Kessell. Sykes suggested the company that provided the fireworks be contacted and urged to take steps to insure that shells and explosives never come near the crowd gathered at the park again.

The district contributed $500 to the Granite City High School National Honor Society for its help in operating ticket booths.

YOUR STARS

LEO July 23-Aug. 7 - Avoid anything that smacks of a private treaty. Keep all dealings, especially financial, in the open. Aug. 8-Aug. 22 - Though new romance is possible, you would do well to try to come to an agreement with an old love.

VIRGO Aug. 23-Sept. 7 - Some depression early in the week may be just the spur you need for a harder and longer effort. Leave the blues behind. Sept. 8-Sept. 22 - Though friends continue to be helpful with a new project, depend on your own work for real progress.

LIBRA Sept. 23-Oct. 7 - Eschew argument - even when it's disguised as discussion. You do best this week if you work alone. Oct. 8-Oct. 22 - A positive attitude makes the difference between succumbing to "bad luck" and overcoming it. Cling to ideals.

SCORPIO Oct. 23-Nov. 7 - Important decisions are to be made this week. To delay further is to relinquish all claim to rewards. Nov. 8-Nov. 21 - A favorable week for travel, but only if your journey enhances chances for financial gain.

SAGITTARIUS Nov. 22-Dec. 7 - Behind-the-scenes activity may make it difficult for you to gain the kind of recognition you need. Dec. 8-Dec. 21 - Don't be deceived by the observable simplicity of a new project. Underlying are complications and difficulties. CAPRICORN Dec. 22-Jan. 6 - Disturbing influences immediately are recognizable this week. Thus, you can do something about them early. Jan. 7-Jan. 19 - An unsettled week that may leave you hurting financially. For emotional soundness, remain calm.

AQUARIUS Jan. 20-Feb. 3 - You will encounter fewer problems working to settle family affairs than you will trying to launch a new project. Feb. 4-Feb. 18 - The congeniality of family and friends cannot be taken for granted. Mediate; discourage argument.

PISCES Feb. 19-March 5 - Work requiring the utmost in concentration is favored. Delay "fun" projects; deal with serious matters. MARCH 6-MARCH 20 - Improve your physical condition early in the week and you'll be able to meet a crisis situation later.

ARIES March 21-April 4 - Details are extremely important to whatever you do this week. They make or break the overall picture. April 5-April 19 - The indifference of a partner to your newly hatched ideas makes it necessary that you work alone this week.

TAURUS April 20-May 5 - Attend to the needs of children first and foremost. The margin for error is small but adequate. May 6-May 20 - Creative projects may have to give way to the practical.

ty of unusual situations that arise this week.

GEMINI May 21-June 6 - Guard against responding to opposition with anger or impatience. Go your own way quietly, tactfully. June 7-June 29 - Resentment may be founded on mere gossip and rumor. Consider the sources of your information before reacting.

CANCER June 21-July 7 - Don't depend upon a spin of the wheel of fortune for your success. Make your own good luck. Work! July 8-July 22 - Combine energy with know-how and you should be home free in terms of results. Expect nothing for nothing this week.

Ponderosa remodeling

The Ponderosa Steak House at 1511 Johnson Road is going through extensive changes as part of Ponderosa's plan to remodel its 399 company-owned restaurants during the next three years.

The Johnson Road location is one of 70 units that will receive a new look in 1986.

"By way of remodeling, Ponderosa can show its appreciation by providing customers with a more contemporary, yet comfortable dining atmosphere to enjoy their meal," said district manager Gary Schneider.

The remodeling work started July 1 and is expected to be finished by Aug. 21, said David Van Vertloo, manager of the local Ponderosa. The restaurant will remain open during the remodeling until Aug. 11, when it will be closed until Aug. 20, he said.

The new decor will include atrium windows, green plants, brass, light woods and a new logo design.

This is the first major remodeling work to the building since opening in March 1972, he said.

"This is really going to be quite a change," said Van Vertloo, who has been manager for four years.

The work is being done by Eagle Construction and will cost an estimated $200,000, he said.

The remodeling will mean an additional 24 seats to the restaurant, which holds 180 people.

It will also mean more jobs, Van Vertloo said, though he is uncertain as to the amount.

Plans are also in the works to refurbish the inside of the restaurant, updating the style, he said.

• Polls OK

about 5,000 votes out of 1.8 million votes cast.

"The people are not going to reelect him," Stevenson said. "The people have been deceived too long."

Stevenson's main issue in this campaign is the economic troubles facing Illinois. "It's falling farther and farther behind other states," he said.

Stevenson would be closer to Thompson than the polls show were it not for the intra-party feud between Stevenson and disciples of so-called right-wing radical Lyndon LaRouche, said an aide to the former senator. Followers of LaRouche won the Democratic Party lieutenant governor and secretary of state nominations earlier this year.

But because Stevenson wouldn't run on the same ticket with the LaRouche supporters, he has had to focus his attention thus far on gathering enough signatures.

Stevenson broke his foot by "kicking Thompson around the state." The break actually resulted from a horse-riding accident.

1946 Warriors hold a reunion

By Al Barnes
Correspondent
GRANITE CITY — A couple of weeks ago, 12 members of one of the greatest football squads ever to play for Granite City held a 40th anniversary celebration of their 1946 Southwestern Conference championship.
That dozen gathered at Charlie's for steaks and some lull tales, no doubt, and fond memories. Head coach Lawrence McCauley has passed on, but Mac's assistant, Glen Rice, flew in from California to join the celebration.
That 1946 team and its great season hold a special place in my memory.
For theirs was the first athletic contest I had reported on as a member of the St. Louis Star-Times sports staff.
I lived in north St. Louis at the time and came to Granite City on the old interurban (electric) car, which travelled to the East Side via the McKinley Bridge and took me swaying noisily up Madison Avenue past the high school.
The game I saw was on a night, that was bitterly cold. The opponent was the Belleville Maroons. The game was played on the old football field which was located roughly where the gymnasium is now.
The idea for the reunion of the '46 team was the brainchild of left halfback Bill Schooley and lineman Frank Kraus.
They were relaxing one evening, and Kraus, who recently retired as superintendent of District 9, realized that 40 years had slipped away and this fall's football team marked a special date.

One thing led to another and it was decided to get all of the guys together. Only one of them, Cliff Bell, had died.
However, both "Kraus and Schooley were sorry they had forgotten to invite Coach McCauley's widow, Dorothy, to be their guest."
In addition to former coach Glen Rice, those attending this reunion included: Carl Linhart, Pat Patterson, Gil Georgeff, Bill Schooley, Myron Bernard, Ken Robinson, Frank Kraus, Harold Hinson, Bud Warfield, Ernie Hopkins and Bill Portell.
That 1946 championship Granite City football team racked up a 7-1 record. The lone loss came in the season opener, when the Warriors dropped a 6-0 decision to Webster Groves of St. Louis.
"We lost that first game," explained Kraus, "because we were sure that we were going to be unbeatable that year."
The Warriors battled East St. Louis to a 0-0 tie at Parsons Field.
"We finally decided to play some football and rain off seven straight victories," Kraus said.
"In sports, like in life, funny things seem to happen. Belleville, which we had beaten, upset East Side to give us a clear shot at the championship."
"So next year we returned the favor to Belleville. We beat East Side to make Belleville the champs."

Giants need a lesson

No, this is not Part II of a character study of all the teams in the National League.
In the Wednesday Journal, we discussed the behavior of the New York Mets in Houston on Saturday evening (Sunday morning), July 19-20. The Mets decided to do their impersonation of the infamous Copacabana incident involving Billy Martin and a few Yankee teammates in 1957, which may or may not have led to Martin's being traded away by the Yankees.
Surely Alfred "Billy" Martin wouldn't cause any trouble, would he?
Now, we come upon yet another battling band of baseballers, the San Francisco Giants. Those beloved residents of Candlestick Park have been in the nether regions of the standings for so long, they apparently have forgotten what it's like to get beat.
Executive Sports Editor Gregg Ochso talked about the Giants in Thursday's paper, but I felt so strongly about what happened that I had to get the last word.
You've probably heard all about it by now. Those hard-hitting Cardinals, who have suddenly remembered how to score more than three runs in a game, pounded Vida Blue and others for eight runs in the fourth inning Tuesday night to assume a 10-2 lead.
In the next inning, Vince Coleman stole two bases, his 59th and 60th thefts of the year. The Giants appeared miffed, and a scuffle almost broke out when that inning ended.
When Coleman came to bat in the seventh, reliever Frank Williams threw a pitch behind Coleman. Williams was warned by home plate umpire Bob Davidson, but Frank was non-plussed and bounced the next pitch off Coleman's shin.
Vince didn't charge the mound, but the benches did empty. Things were fairly calm, but somebody said something and the pushing — and some punches — began. Even manager Whitey Herzog got physical with some Giants, including opposing manager Roger Craig.
Coleman and Mike Krukow tackled each other behind the plate, and Krukow suffered a broken rib in the fracas, which could cost the Giants the pennant. Williams, Craig and Chris Brown of the Giants were ejected. No Cardinals were booted out, although Tom Herr had to leave because of a cut he suffered in a pileup.
The Giants were clearly in the wrong in this incident. There is an unwritten rule in baseball that players aren't supposed to be stealing bases when their team is way ahead, but unwritten rules aren't always good rules.
It doesn't make any sense. You

Sports Comment
By Dave Whaley
aren't supposed to punt when you're way ahead, either. I can see that, but the stolen base is another thing. The Cardinals are still a team which depends on the running game to score runs. And even though Willie McGee and Andy Van Slyke have led the Cardinals on a power surge in recent days, they are in no danger of resembling the 1961 Yankees.
Sure, the Cardinals led 10-2 and had John Tudor on the mound. It appeared they had the game well in hand. But nothing is guaranteed. In the championship year of 1982, there was the same problem with the Giants when Lonnie Smith stole a base with the Cardinals ahead by a bunch.
The Cardinals held a 7-0 lead, but the Giants came back for an 8-7 win (it was the same weekend Glenn Brummer made his famous steal of home). Herzog said at the time he would never steal a base with his team ahead if the other team sent him a note promising they wouldn't come back and tie the game or go ahead.
As it turned out Tuesday, the Cardinals took Tudor out in the eighth and the Giants eventually made it a 10-7 game before Todd Worrell struck out Candy Maldonado with two men on to end the game.
There was the proof right there. If Worrell gets a pitch up in Maldonado's eyes, he's capable of tying the game. So Coleman was right in stealing the bases and trying for the extra run.
It would have been interesting to see what the Giants would have said if Coleman's steal had led to a run and Maldonado had homered, leaving the Cardinals with an 11-10 win. Coleman's run would have been the difference, and the Giants wouldn't have mouthed off about it after the game like they did.
Maybe the Giants were upset that the Cardinals, who had struggled all year with the bats, had exploded for 18 runs in two nights against them. Or maybe they think they're suddenly too good to have these heinous acts committed against them.
Coleman is paid to steal bases, and he did. The Giants need a lesson in how the game is played. They have some guys who are paid to hit home runs. The next time they're way ahead and one of their players hits a home run, maybe the other team should come out and fight them.

Essington new coach at Madison
Rich Essington, the head basketball coach at Venice High School from 1973-77, was named the new basketball coach at Madison Thursday night.
Essington, 36, has been working in the insurance business since his resignation from Venice after the 1976-77 season. He led the Red Devils to their only state title in 1975, and had an 86-27 record in four years.

Essington replaces Rodney Watson, who resigned two weeks ago to take an assistant coaching job at the University of Nebraska-Omaha.
More on Essington's return to coaching will appear in Wednesday's Journal.

Game Tuesday

Gray, Bowen named to all-star team

Pitchers Eric Gray and Mark Bowen of Tri-City Post 113 have been named to play for the North Division team in the American Legion District 22 All-Star Game Tuesday night.

The game, scheduled to begin at 8 p.m., will be played at Citizens Park in Belleville.

Gray was 5-1 for the Triplets with a 2.83 earned run average. Bowen was 1-3, but had a 3.15 ERA, but he might not be able to play in the game.

An awards ceremony will be held at 7:30 p.m., at which the league will name a most valuable player and a manager of the year. The league umpires will also present sportsmanship awards.

Wayne Wirz, manager of the Highland Post 439 and the District 22 baseball chairman, said the managers of the top three finishers in each division will make up the coaching staff for the game, with the division-winning manager in charge.

In the North Division, Ken Schaeke of Edwardsville will manage and he will be assisted by Wirz and Harry Kortkamp of Alton. In the South Division, Kent Vollert of regular season champion Marietta will manage, assisted by Art May of East St. Louis and Fred McClary of Fairview Heights.

Each team will have a 20-man roster. The rosters were picked based on recommendations of all the league managers, with the three-man coaching staff making the final decisions.

NOTES: Fairview Heights took the South Division title with an 8-7 win over East St. Louis Thursday night. East St. Louis held 2-0 and 3-2 leads early in the game, but Fairview scored four times in the fifth inning off East St. Louis hurlers Kerwin Price and Terry Westfield to assume an 8-4 lead.

Dave Edwards reached Fairview starter and winner Sam Lance for a three-run homer in the sixth to bring Post 378 within a run. But Lance picked Lawrence Moore off first base after Moore had started the seventh with a hit.

That was important, because Keith Clayborn followed with a hit that might have sent Moore to third, and Ken Wilson's long fly ball would have tied the game. Instead, it was the second out, and Lance got the final out to wrap up the title. East St. Louis had 10 hits and 14 runners in the game, but Lance went the distance for Fairview and got the win. Price was the losing pitcher.

Fairview played at Highland Saturday night in the first game of the best-of-three series for the District 22 title. The second game (and third, if necessary) will be played in Fairview Heights today.

The winner advances to the Fifth Division Tournament in Trenton later this week. The state tournament will be in Moline Aug. 7-10.
